

Protection Controller: One Day Sentinel Certification

Protection Controller: One Day Sentinel Certification

The Protection Controller One Day Sentinel Certification course is available for individuals who hold a valid Controller of Site Safety certificate, and are now required to establish safe and effective systems of protection for multiple groups carrying out engineering works. All individuals on this course will have been chosen by their Sponsor as they are mature and experienced enough to carry out the role. They will also be able to provide documented evidence of having carried out at least six COSS duties in the last six months.

Course Content

By the end of the course, the individual will have the knowledge to carry out the duties required of a Protection Controller. They will understand the importance of a T2 block and the liaison with signallers to ensure any other COSS certified individuals in the block can work safely.

Re-certification

Re-certification for a Protection Controller is offered in conjunction with other Controller of Site Safety certificates. Please get in contact with us directly at Developing U so we can advise you on the best course for each individual that is interested.

Sentinel Scheme

The Sentinel system is a scheme from Network Rail that ensures all individuals that work in the railway industry are competent in their job role, and are medically fit to do so. Only approved training providers can deliver this training, with learners being subject to specific criteria they need to fit before being eligible to take part. This will be provided when making a booking, and we will encourage you to thoroughly check the learner meets this criteria before proceeding with the booking.

Developing U

If you are interested in this course, please contact Developing U directly to discuss pricing and course arrangements. Please state whether the interest is in the full course certification, or the re-certification of an existing Protection Controller.
